

'There is a lot of experience among the residents but the skills we have developed in our lives are completely wasted. There are a lot of things that residents could share if given an opportunity.'

Our aims are:

- Supporting residents and relatives to be involved in decisions affecting their care and well-being
- Negotiating individual rights and risks to optimise quality of life

www.myhomelife.org.uk